A metrical account of the life and deings of Advaitácháryya, the well-known follower and collaborateur of Chaitanya, by his disciple and personal attendant, leán Nágar. The book was written in 1490 of the Saka era, and has now been printed and published for the first time. As an early specimen of Bengali language and literature, it possesses a unique value, and throws considerable side-light on the principal actors in the drama of Cheitanyaisme.	496:

father, had a half-brother, named Aravinda. They were not on good terms, and by Skakepear's As You Like It. Ananga, the eldest son of his Ananga driven to desperation by Aravinda's ill-treatment, courted death at a wrestling match held before the king Pundarika. But he eventually defeated the State wrestler Chanda Sinha, and by that means earned the affections of the princess Ranginf, the king's niece, who presented him with a jewelled necklace. This display of feeling on her part displaesed the king, who ordered her to leave the palace on pain of death. His own daughter Sarak was an intimate friend of Ragin, and they both left the palace together and wandered to a hermitage where Rangini's father, Pundarika's elder brother 4.00d. Thither they were followed by Ananga and Aravinda, who duly married the princesses Raugini and Sarak respectively. Pundarika, who had ousted his elder brother from the throne, but who renounced the world in serrow and disgust after his daughter's flight from the palace was also present incognito at the marriage of his daughter and niece. This was the signal for mutual recognition and reconciliation. The book is well written, and the author possesses considerable poetic power. Rangini's adventures in male clothes and her coquetry with a village girl, whom she ultimately induced to marry her lover, are rendered with great skill. Her character is, however, cast in a European mould, and she resembles more a European than a native lady.

father was poisoned by her uncle, and the murderer, Dhurandhar, ascended the throne. While flying from his malice, Padmálayá met with a boat accident on the Jumna, and was picked up by a sannyási, named Sankar Svámí and taken to his hermitage near Allahabad. Here her identity becoming known, the sannyási negotiated for her marriage with of the prince Anilkumár of Oudh, to whom she had been betrethed. In the meantime, Pharandhar also sought the hand of the prince for his daughter Chámeli. But eventually his suit was rejected, and Anilkumár married Padmálayé. There-upon, Dhurandhar vowed vengeance on the king of Oudh, and led an expedition aganist Anilkumár, as he ascended the throne on his father's death. In the battle which followed, Anilkumár was victorious, and Dhurandhar lost his life. But while the battle was in progress, the queen Padmálayá was induced by an emissary of Dhurandhar to leave the capital, and was forcibly taken towards Indore by some ruffians employed for the purpose. The news of the was, however, sought out by Sankar Svámí, and induced to return to his capital, where he was joined later on by the queen, who was fortugate enough to have escaped the hands of the ruffians and again to find shelter in the hermitage of Svámí. Princess Chámeli led a miserable existence since the rejection of her suit by Anilkumár, but her attachment towards the prince remained unabated. She refused to marry and found solace in the contemplation of her early love. Anilkumár's renumental machated. She refused to marry and found solace in the contemplation of her early love. Anilkumár's renumental hards have also been drawn with skill. The book is written in fairly good Bengali.

ľ											is as follows: A zamindar's son turns scape-grace and begins to borrow money and spend the same on wine, woman and a lot of parasites. At last the money-lender, who supplied him with money, brings him to court; the favourite who negotiated the loans turns against him, and the woman over whom he lavished his love and money forsakes him. This brings him to his senses, and he mends his ways and becomes reconciled to his father and family. A young man, who either in present or in prospective possession of a fortune, takes to borrowing mency recklessly, is called "Captain" in Bengali slang, and this explains the title of the in Bengal. Many of these eketches were originally contributed to the columns of well-known Bengali journals. A collection of these with a good deal of additional matter has been presented in the volume under notice. In the sketch headed "Plassey," the author, on the authority of English historians like Malleson and others, paints the character of Nawab Sirájud-dowlá in colours, distinctly more attractive than those in which European historians have hitherto been wont to paint it. The book is the outcome of considerable study and local research. Contemporary records, both English and Native, have been laid under contribution, and references to authorities have been given for every statement of importance. The writer, who appears to be a native of the district, with whose history and traditions he deals, has brought to his task a zeal and enthusiasm which is really commendable.

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 27th April 1898.

No. 712E.B.—The following communication, dated the 23rd April 1898, addressed by Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs to the Right Hon'ble Lord George F. Hamilton, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, is published for general information and guidance:—

"Her Majesty being fully determined to observe the duties of neutrality during the existing state of war between Spain and the United States of America, and being, moreover, resolved to prevent, as far as possible, the use of America, and being, moreover, resolved to prevent, as far as possible, the use of America, and being, moreover, and coasts, and the waters within Her Majesty's Her Majesty's harbours, ports and coasts, and the waters within Her Majesty's territorial jurisdiction in aid of the warlike purposes of either bestigerent, and to ensure by every lawful means in Her power the due observance by Her subjects towards both belligerent Powers of the rules embodied in Article 6 of the Treaty of Washington of the 8th of May 1871, copies of which are herewith enclosed, has commanded me to communicate to your Lordship for your guidance the following rules, which are to be be treated and enforced as Her Majesty's orders and directions:

Rule 1 .- During the continuance of the present state of war, all ships of war of either belligerent are prohibited from making use of any port or roadstead in the United Kingdom, the Isle of Man or the Channel Islands, or in any of Her Majesty's colonies or foreign possessions or dependencies, or of any waters subject to the territorial jurisdiction of the British Crown, as a station or place of resort for any warlike purpose, or for the purpose of obtaining any facili-ties for warlike equipment, and no ship of war of either belligerent shall hereafter be permitted to leave any such port, roadstead or waters from which any vessel of the other belligerent (whether the same shall be a ship of war or a merchant ship) shall have previously departed until after the expiration of at least twenty-four hours from the departure of such last-mentioned vessel beyond the territorial jurisdiction of Her Majesty.

Rule 2.—If there is now in any such port, roadstead or waters subject to the territorial jurisdiction of the British Crown any ship of war of either belligerent, such ship of war shall leave such port, roadstead or waters within such time, not less than twenty-four hours, as shall be reasonable, having regard to all the circumstances and the condition of such ship as to repairs, provisions or things necessary for the subsistence of her crew, and if after the date hereof any ship of war of either belligerent shall enter any such port, roadstead or waters subject to the territorial jurisdiction of the British Crown, such ship shall depart and put to sea within twenty-four hours after her entrance into any such port, roadstead or waters, except in case of stress of weather or of her requiring provisions or things necessary for the subsistence of her crew or repairs, in either of which cases the authorities of the port or of the nearest port (as the case may be) shall require her to put to sea as soon as possible after the expiration of such period of twenty-four hours without permitting her to take in supplies beyond what may be necessary for her immediate use, and no such vessel which may have been allowed to remain within British waters for the purpose of repair shall continue in any such port, roadstead or waters for a longer period than twentyfour hours after her necessary repairs shall have been completed. Provided, nevertheless, that in all cases in which there shall be any vessels (whether ships of war or merchant ships) of both the said belligerent parties in the same port, roadstead or waters within the territorial jurisdiction of Her Majesty, there shall be an interval of not less than twenty-four hours between the departure therefrom of any such vessel (whether a ship of war or merchantman) of the one belligerent and the subsequent departure therefrom of any ship of war of the other belligerent, and the time hereby limited for the departure of such ships of war respectively shall always in case of necessity be extended so far as may be requisite for giving effect to this provision, but no further or otherwise. Rule 3 .- No ship of war of either belligerent shall hereafter be permitted, while in any port, roadstead or waters subject to the territorial jurisdiction of Her Majesty, to take in any supplies except provisions and such other things as may be requisite for the subsistence of her crew, and except so much coal only as may be sufficient to carry such vessel to the nearest port of her own country or to some nearer destination, and no coal shall be again supplied to any such ship of war in the same or any other pozt, roadstead or waters subject to the territorial jurisdiction of Her Majesty without special permission until after the expiration of three months from the time when such coal may have been last supplied to her within British waters as aforesaid. Rule 4.—Armed ships of either belligerent are interdicted from carrying prizes made by them into the ports, harbours, roadsteads or waters of the United Kingdom, the Isle of Man, the Channel Islands, or any of Her Majesty's colonies or possessions abroad.

The Governor or other chief authority of each of Her Majesty's territories or possessions beyond the seas shall forthwith notify and publish the above rules."

Rules embodied in Article 6 of the Treaty of Washington, deted the 8th May 1871.

A neutral Government is bound, first, to use due diligence to prevent the fitting out, arming or equipping within its jurisdiction of any vessel which it has remonable ground to believe is intended to cruise or to carry on war against a Power with which it is at peace, and also to use like diligence to prevent the departure from its jurisdiction of any vessel intended to cruise or carry on war as above, such vessel having been specially adapted in whole or in part within such jurisdiction to warlike use; secondly, not to permit or suffer either belligerent to make use of its ports or waters as the base of naval operations against the other or for the purpose of the renewal or augmentation of military supplies or arms or the recruitment of men: thirdly, to exercise due diligence in its own ports and waters and as to all persons within men; thiraly, to exercise due diligence in its own ports and waters and as to all persons within its jurisdiction to prevent any violation of the foregoing obligations and duties.

The Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct that the orders and directions of Her Majesty the Queen, Empress of India, as contained in the above communication, are to be obeyed by all persons within the limits of Her Majesty's territories and possessions in India.

MEDICAL.

The 30th April 1898.

No. 2647 Medl.—The following question, asked at the meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council on 30th April 1898, on the subject of the plague in Calcutta, with the reply given by the Hon'ble Mr. Risley and His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor's speech, are published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. H. RISLEY,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

- Question by the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Bancejee .- Will the Government be pleased to make a statement with regard to the suspicious cases of plague which have recently appeared in Calcutta? Are they cases of true bubonic plague? Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table the Report of Dr. Haffkine on the subject.
- II. Question by the Hon'ble Babu Norendra Nath Sen.—In view of the panic and alarm caused in Calcutta by the reports of several cases of plague in the City and of the exodus that has already commenced, I have the honour to enquire to what extent the Government will be prepared to mitigate the stringency of the rules in regard to the arrangements required to be made for stringency of the rules in regard to the arrangements required to be made for segregation and disinfection, in the case of respectable people, especially as segregation and disinfection, in the event of an outbreak of the plague?

(*) Have any cases occurring in Calcutta been reported to Government

(b) Has Government taken any steps to ascertain if there are or were as cases of plague? real cases of plague? If so, what are those steps?

(c) Has Dr. Haffkine pronounced any opinion as to the nature of the bacilli he may have found in the blood and fluid of the glands of patients that were sent to him? Is Government aware that there are differences of medical opinion as regards the bacteriological diagnosis of plague; that the true bacillus of plague, if there is any, has not yet been positively determined; that some say it is Kitasato's bacillus, others that it is Yersin's,—which is the true plague bacillus? Others again have said that there is a third variety which is found in plague cases, and that it is yet uncertain which is the real pathogenic bacillus. Under these circumstances, would it not be premature to declare Calcutta to be a plague-stricken city? If Government had acted to declare Calcutta to he a plague-stricken of the Calcutta Corporation, Dr. on the opinion of the late Health Officer of the Calcutta Corporation, Dr. Simpson, Calcutta would long ago have been declared as such. Would it have been proper to do so?

III. Question by the Hon'ble Mr. Turner.—Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the alleged cases of plague in Calcutta during the past week, or cases of disease resembling plague, and will the Government be pleased to state the result of the enquiries made in connection with the said cases?

Answer by the Hon'ble Mr. H. H. Risley.

I WILL answer all the questions relating to plague together. The facts are as follows: -On the night of the 16th April a sudden death from fever, accompanied by swelling of the glands of the left groin, occurred in Kapalitola, a panied by swelling of the glands of the left groin, occurred in Kapalitola, a crowded locality near Bow Bazar. The post-mortem examination showed symptoms which were regarded by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, symptoms which were regarded by the Inspector-General of Calcutta as suspicious. the Sanitary Commissioner and the Health Officer of Calcutta as suspicious. On the other hand an experienced local practitioner considered the case to be one of septicosmic fever of a type known to him as not uncommon in Calcutta. The deceased was a native of Eastern Bengal, resident in Calcutta, Calcutta. The deceased was a native of Eastern Bengal, resident in Calcutta, and there was no evidence whatever of his having had any communication with persons coming from the areas in Bombay and the Panjab which are with persons coming from the areas in Bombay and the Panjab which are infected with plague. The house in which he died was thoroughly disininfected; all persons who had been in contact with him were removed to a feeted; all persons who had been in contact with him were removed to a segregation camp in Narkooldanga; and all clothes which might convey segregation were burned, compensation being at once paid to their owners. Cultures were made from the important organs and were sent to Monsieur Haffkine at Bombay, for bacteriological examination. Haffkine at Bombay for bacteriological examination.

On the following day three other persons in Kapalitola were found to be suffering from somewhat similar symptoms. One of these, a boy two years and-a-half old, has since died, and the other two are under observation. Seven other persons who had been in contact with the deceased were discharged after detention for ten days, during which time they showed no suspicious

A Dom who assisted at the post-mortem examination got accidentally pricked in the finger, and has been dangerously ill, but is now reported to be recovering.

On the 27th April three more cases occurred in the neighbourhood of,

On the 24th April four cases, of which three were fatal, occurred in Market Kapalitola, one of which was fatal. Street and Municipal Office Street, and on the same day a man died with suspicious symptoms at 39, Ezra Street. On the 27th four more cases occurred in the same locality, two of which have proved fatal. There were three cases, one fatal, on the 28th; and two more, one of which died, occurred yesterday.

On the 25th April a bearer in the employ of Messrs. Kilburn and Company died suddenly at 4, Fairlie Place, and on the following day a second bearer

On the morning of the 28th a man employed in Clive Street was admitted into the contagious ward of the Campbell Hospital with suspicious symptoms, of the same firm died in Jaun Bazar. and died the same evening.

On the 27th April four cases were admitted into the Medical College Hospital from Phear's Lane, Chunam Gully and Champatola.

Owing to the admitted existence in Calcutta at all times of the year of a form of fever accompanied by bubonic swellings, which on occasions proves fatal, and in view of the fact that the general death-rate of the town for the week ending the 23rd April was only 31.3 per thousand per annum as compared with 38.9, the mean death-rate of the corresponding period for the last five years, there seemed until yesterday morning to be room for doubt as to the character of the suspicious deaths which have occurred during doubt as to the character of the suspicious deaths which have occurred during the last fortnight. That, I fear, can now no longer be said. Monsieur Haffkine, whose authority on the subject of plague is undoubted, now reports by telegram: "Cultivation sent from Calcutta produced typical plague involution forms. Identity with plague microbe undoubted." The Lieutenant-Governor has conferred with all the Medical Officers of Government who have seen the suspicious cases, and they are unanimous in pronouncing them to be true plague. As I have already stated, no connexion can be traced between the persons affected, all of whom are residents of Calcutta, and any travellers who have arrived from the areas now infected in the Bombay Presidency and the Panjab. All such travellers are most carefully inspected at Chausa and Chakardharpur. Their railway tickets are punched with a peculiar mark before they leave the infected area, and persons holding such tickets are kept under observation throughout the journey and for ten days after their arrival in Calcutta. No suspicious cases have been discovered among the persons from Bombay and the Penjah who are now under observation have and the Harly Control of the Penjah who are now under observation have and the Harly Control of the Penjah who are now under observation have and the Harly Control of the Penjah who are now under observation have and the Harly Control of the Penjah who are now under observation have and the Harly Control of the Penjah who are now under observation have and the Harly Control of the Penjah who are now under observation have and the Harly Control of the Penjah who are now under observation have and the Harly Control of the Penjah who are now under observation have and the Harly Control of the Penjah who are now under observation have a penjah who ar the Panjab who are now under observation here, and the Health Officer, after making special inquiry into the point, has been unable to trace any connection between the local cases and the arrivals from infected areas. Rats, however, have been found dead in considerable numbers in the press-room of the East Indian Railway and in godowas connected with the coasting trade with Bombay, and it is possible that the infection has been imported by these

The fact already mentioned, that the general death-rate of the town is exceptionally low, affords grounds for believing that the cases which have now been reported are the first which have occurred, and that if the people cooperate cordially with the Government it may be possible to prevent the disease from gaining a firm footing in the town. The possibility of plague appearing in Calcutta has long been foreseen, and a scheme for dealing with it was prepared by the Chairman of the Corporation in consultation with the Government some months ago. As part of that scheme twenty-five doctors and as many nurses were procured from England, and it was arranged that until their services were required in Calcutta they should be employed and paid by the Bombay Government. The Bombay Government has now been asked by telegram to send two doctors and two nurses at once for duty in Calcutta, and more will be called for as occasion may demand. Meanwhile from the very first as ample precautions have been taken as if the first case had been known to be a case of plague. A plague hospital and a segregation camp had already been prepared; the suspected cases were removed to the hespital, and the contact cases isolated at the camp. All houses believed to be contaminated have been disinfected as thoroughly as possible, and places in which dead rats have been found have been thoroughly cleansed.

The measures to be adopted in dealing with an outbreak of plague are stated briefly in Chapter XVI, Report on the Plague in India, 1896, 1897, recently published by the Government of India. They are the following:—

(a) The prompt detection of cases by carefully enforced death registration, house-to-house visitation, and such other means as are found practicable.

(b) The segregation of the sick and their careful nursing and treatment in well-ventilated and sanitary hospitals.

(c) The segregation, after disinfection of clothing, bedding, &c., under medical supervision and in sanitary surroundings, of the persons who, by association with the sick, have been especially exposed to the risk of infection.

(d) The evacuation of infected houses and localities, the inmates being lodged in carefully supervised health camps.

(e) The thorough cleansing and disinfection of infected houses and localities before the inmates are permitted to return.

(f) The enforcement of general sanitary precautions, such as extensive cleansing of dwellings, freer admissions of light and air, destruction or modification of insanitary buildings, improvement of drainage and conservancy, abatement of overcrowding, and opening out of congested localities.

Plague Regulation No. 9 of the 10th November 1897 gives effect to these principles in Calcutta, but mitigates them in the case of the upper classes by providing in rule 46 for the formation of private hospitals and segregation camps subject to the necessary precautions.

To these must now be added inoculation with the prophylactic virus prepared by Monsieur Haffkine in his Laboratory at Bombay. Monsieur Haffkine asserts that inoculation by this material "prevents from 80" to 90 per cent. of deaths from plague and reduces the plague from an epidemic form to the position of a sporadic disease." Surgeon-Major-General Harvey was deputed by the Government of India last month to Bombay specially to examine the results of M. Haffkine's inoculations. This Government asked to be informed of Dr. Harvey's conclusions, and enquired further whether, if those results were favourable, the Government of India would agree to any modification of the segregation system. The Government of India have replied that Surgeon-Major-General Harvey's report is being forwarded by post. It is stated to be generally favourable to the system of inoculation; but the Government of India consider that the inoculation of the inmates of an infected house cannot take the place of the evacuation of the house, which is essential for the purpose of disinfection. They hold that the inmates of an infected house may be given the option of being inoculated instead of being removed to an observation camp for the full period of incubation; but after inoculation it will be necessary to keep them in a segregation camp during the course of the inoculation in order that they may be properly sheltered and kept under medical surveillance. As soon as the process of inoculation is over they may be released from segregation. The Government of India also consider that the inmates of houses round an infected house may, if they submit to inoculation, be exempted from both evacuation of the houses and segregation of their inmates. These concessions do not affect the treatment of persons actually suffering from plague in unin-oculated households, who must be segregated either in public or private hospitals. But now that the efficacy of the Haffkine virus has been demonstrated, the experiment will be tried of exempting all families, which have been entirely inoculated prior to the occurrence of any case of plague among them, from liability to segregation. That is to say, if a member of a completely inoculated family is attacked by places and provides the family and provides th attacked by plague, neither he nor his family will be liable to removal to a segregation camp. This privilege will be subject to the strict proviso that any case that may occur in the family must be reported to the Health Officer within twelve hours of the patient falling ill, and that the directions of the Health Officer as to the isolation of the patient within the house and the daily disinfection of all parts of it are faithfully carried out. The Lieutenant-Governor wishes it to be distinctly understood that while on the faith of the experience in Bombay he strongly commends the method of ineculation to the people ineculation will be pressed on the factor. of inoculation to the people, inoculation will be pressed on no one. Every man will be left entirely free to satisfy himself of its efficacy and of the propriety of asking for it in the circumstances of his own household. Every assistance will be given to those who do apply, but the matter is left absolutely and entirely to the discretion of the people themselves.

This Government has already recognised and given effect to the principle that all hospitals, whether Government hospitals or private caste hospitals, should be so arranged as to provide accommodation for the immediate family of the patients. It is of the first importance that the sick people should not be separated from their families. In the plans that have been drawn up for the plague hospitals now under construction the unit is the family block, which
